

The Sixth Commandment:
"Be loyal to the person you are married to."

What does this mean?

We should respect and love God, so that the way boys and girls talk to each other is polite, and we are careful about how we behave with our bodies. Husbands and wives should love and respect each other.

